ACID REFLUX ■ DIABETES ■ ENERGY ■ INFLAMMATION ■ WEIGHT LOSS

I was told by a good friend of mine that by consuming the healthy chocolate at least three times per day could help my diabetes. I had my doubts, but decided to give it a try.

In the first two months, I was able to come off all my diabetic medication! I dropped 25 pounds and was able to stop taking medicine for my acid reflux.

It's been five years now since the first day I ate that piece of healthy chocolate, and I'm still not on any medications. At the request of my wife, I had a complete physical recently. The blood work was perfect. Not only did my A1C, cholesterol, triglycerides, and PSA look great, the CRP test showed almost no inflammation in my body. Now, I look and feel younger with lots of energy!
